BX Seminar Proceedings ?

What about an LNCS Volume with (open) CFP mainly addressed at participants of GRACE, Dagstuhl, and BIRS seminars containing peer-reviewed

- Extended bx survey paper
- Survey papers of specific subareas
- Regular papers of specific approaches
- CASE study / example / benchmark descriptions
- Tool descriptions

What might we want to come out of this?

- A "highly citeable" report on BX?
  - Vocabulary, taxonomy, definitions and concepts
  - Tutorial on BX
  - State-of-the-art research survey on foundations, techniques and tools – reflecting ICMT'09 paper
  - Applications
- Edited by the organizers, with contributions from whomever is keen?
- Collaborative and cross-disciplinary.
  - How to achieve this?

Highly Citeable Report

- An open-access freely available version that we can give to our students, attendees at future events, ... eg., arxiv
  - "Read the first 10 pages of this [ie., tutorial part] before coming to BX etc."
- A peer-reviewed version, e.g., ACM Computing Surveys, so we get those academic points

SIGMOD Tutorial

- In parallel with (and to spur on development of) the survey-tutorial paper, work on a tutorial proposal (and tutorial) for SIGMOD.

- Proposal due in January.

- Material not needed until later.

- Material prepared could feed into the paper (or paper material fed into tutorial)

BX 2014

- Athens, 28 March 2014
- Abstracts due 7 Dec
- Papers due 13 Dec

BX 2015?

- Where to locate?
- ETAPS 2015 (London, UK)?
- STAF 2015 (L'Aquila, Italy)?
- Where else? ….
